The Glen Ridge Club Election.

Last week the annual meeting of the Glen Ridge Club was held at the Club House on Ridgewood avenue. The report of the Governing Committee shows that the Club is a prosperous institution. Its financial affairs are established on a very satisfactory basis, and the present membership is about fifty.

The officers of the Club elected for the next year are the following:
President, A. G. Darwin.
Secretary, E. P. Mitchell.
Treasurer, Charles T. Dodd.
Governing Committee, A. R. Brewer, A. G. Darwin, Chas. T. Dodd, Jos. D. Gallagher, E. P. Mitchell, Robert S. Rudd, and G. Lee Stout.

The Club House is now open to the ladies of members' families and their guests, not only on Wednesdays from 10 A. M. to 5 P. M., but also on Wednesday evenings. It is understood that the ladies are to have exclusive possession of the Club House during the daytime of every Wednesday, and that it is open on the evening of that day both to ladies and to gentlemen.

Provision has been made for a series of entertainments at the Club House, to begin about Oct. 27, occurring on alternate Wednesday evenings throughout the fall, winter and spring up to the middle of June. These entertainments will be of a varied character, the list including receptions, dances, card parties, concerts, amateur theatrical performances, readings, etc. Notice of the full program for the season will be given in a week or two.

The Thirteenth's Reunion.

The survivors of the New Jersey regiment that marched out of Camp Frelinghuysen for the seat of war on the last Sunday in August, 1862, one thousand strong, and returned to Newark in June, 1865, with less than one-third its number, held their first reunion since the latter date last Wednesday afternoon in the city of Orange. The meeting took place in Uzal Dodd Post room, where 150 of the veterans heartily greeted each other, many of them for the first time since they disbanded at the close of the war. A permanent association was formed, and the Thirteenth will hereafter meet each year, on or about the anniversary of the battle of Antietam, Sept. 17, when the boys first engaged the enemy. Steps were taken toward raising $5,000 for the erection of a monument on the ground held by the Thirteenth at Gettysburg, most of which fund was enthusiastically raised or pledged upon the spot. After the business meeting and a lunch, the veterans participated in a parade of the military battalion of Orange, with Uzal Dodd Post, No. 12, G. A. R.

The line of march was down Main street to Brick Church, countermarching to St. Mark's church and returning again to the place of formation. All along the line of march the scores and residences were decorated and illuminated, and the veterans were greeted with a profuse display of fireworks and cheer from the crowds that occupied the sidewalks. Then the veterans, together with a number of invited guests of Orange and Essex County citizens and officials sat down to a banquet, served in Upper Music Hall by Davis. About 200 in all were present. Shortly after 10 o'clock Colonel Frederick H. Harris called the assemblage to order and made a fine address giving a history of the regiment. Then he resigned the chair to Captain A. M. Matthews who acted as toast-master. Mr. George Spottswoode spoke for the "City of Orange." In response to the "Thirteenth, New Jersey Volunteer," Dr. John J. H. Love gave an interesting history of the regiment in the field, and then followed toasts and responses of the usual character. Taken all in all, this first reunion was most enjoyable. The veterans fully appreciated the untiring labors of the regimental committee, consisting of Comrades Matthews, Toombs, Jacobus and Livingston, who were the means of bringing the "boys" to Orange, and the patriotic people of the city, one and all, who united to do honor to the "Old Thirteenth," will hereafter ever be gratefully remembered.

RED STAR.

In Memory of Dr. J. A. Davis.

The Bloomfield Improvement Association being desirous of placing upon their records a tribute to the memory of their late President, Dr. Jos. A. Davis, unanimously adopted the following minute:

Dr. Jos. A. Davis, whose death occurred on the fourth day of August last, had spent the whole of his long life of more than three score years and ten within our township.

From his early manhood he exhibited in a marked degree those qualities of heart and mind which secured for him not only distinction in his profession, but also the abiding trust and confidence of all with whom he came in contact.

As a citizen of Bloomfield he was wise, unselfish and public spirited. His devotion to the interests of our town knew no bounds and his active services in her behalf ceased only with his life.

As the founder and first President of this organization he labored continuously for the improvement of the village and the advancement of her interests.

In all the work which this Association has thus far initiated or accomplished, Dr. Davis was the guiding mind and controlling spirit.

We recognize the value of his services and the benefit and encouragement of his example. We sincerely deplore the loss that we have sustained by reason of his death, and shall greatly miss his wise counsel and ripe experience in further prosecuting the work to which he gave so unremitting attention until his earthly labor had been fully completed.

A Dangerous Crossing.

Denis Newport, the Spruce street lumber dealer, and James D. Bollinger, had a narrow escape at the Glenwood avenue railroad crossing on Wednesday evening. Mr. Newport and his friend were driving and approached the crossing just as the West bound Montclair express, which passes through Bloomfield at 5:02 came along at a rapid speed. The occupants of the buggy did not heed the approaching train, and their view of the track to the eastward was obstructed by a number of box-cars which stood upon a siding. There was also no flagman to warn them and they drove upon the track directly in front of the locomotive. Mr. Newport shouted at the horse and sprang from the buggy, escaping with a few scratches. Mr. Bollinger was, however, not so fortunate, as the locomotive caught the hind wheel, shattered it into kindling wood, overturning and wrecking the buggy. Mr. Bollinger was thrown out some distance, and was picked up in an insensible condition and taken into R. N. Dodd's office. Here he was attended by Dr. Bailey, and afterward removed to Mr. Newport's residence. He was found to be severely, but not seriously injured. The citizens are indignant at the Railroad Company for their refusal to erect gates or place a flagman at the most important crossing in the township.

Enterpean Society.

At a recent meeting of the Enterpean Society held at the residence of Mr. George Seymour, an election of officers for the ensuing year was held which resulted as follows: President, Mr. George A. Mitchell; Vice-President, Mr. J. Z. Pettie; Secy. and Treasurer, Mr. Frank M. Hinkle.
The Society has become materially strengthened by the addition of several new members, and has settled down after the summer adjournment to hard work, under the continued direction of Mr. J. P. Fischer. It proposes to give a vocal and instrumental concert of a very high order, in Bloomfield, in the early part of December, at which will appear some of the best professional talent which can be secured. Due notice of the entertainment will be given in the columns of THE CITIZEN.

Orange.

—The Orange Common Council met Monday evening for the purpose of considering the ordinance permitting the Orange Cross Town and Orange Valley Horse Car Company to run their cars by electricity, the company having already been granted the franchise to operate the road with horses or mules. The plan proposed by the company was to have a wire suspended over the centre of the street from cross wires, attached to poles on both sides of the street. The opponents of the electric street railway were out in force, with a remonstrance, signed by representatives of 13,000 of the 28,000 feet of property along the proposed line. This proved effective. The electric railway ordinance was killed by Ald. Snyder's motion to strike out the enacting clause, which was carried by a vote of 8 to 2. The contract with the Thompson & Houston Electric Lighting Company for lighting the city with 125 electric lamps for two years and six months, at $95 per year for 1,200 candle power lights and $100 for 2,000 candle power lights, was read and approved and the Mayor authorized to sign it.

East Orange.

—At a regular meeting of the East Orange Township Committee, Monday evening, a large amount of routine business was transacted, and the matters of opening North Clinton and Summit and North and South Lloyd avenues were taken up, approved and referred to the Assessment Committee. Mr. Dodd, of the Street Lighting Committee, reported that he had received about 50 postal cards, complaining of the street lamps. The committee was instructed to see if the company would not give better service.

A Faith Cure in Newark.

A communication was received by the Advertiser, Tuesday, stating that Mr. William E. Bradner, who is in the seventy-fifth year of his age, and has been blind was taken to the Gospel faith cure meeting at No. 48 Orchard street on Sunday, October 3d, and prayed with, and on the following Sunday was able to read a paper called the Crown of Glory. A reporter of the Advertiser called at No. 48 Orchard street, and there met L. B. Heller, the evangelist. The latter expressed himself as willing to tell all that he knew about the case. He said: Mr. William E. Bradner, of Park street, was brought here on Sunday, October 3d, by an attendant. He had been blind for two years and was unable to read, and was so blind that he stumbled over a chair in his room. His great desire was to be able to read the "Crown of Glory," his favorite paper. I prayed with him, laid my hands on him, and anointed him with oil. I prayed specially that he might be able to read the Crown of Glory. Yesterday he came here and told me that on Sunday he had read the Crown of Glory for the first time in two years. He is very cheerful and happy. He is seventy-five years old, and is very bright and keen.

Not a Faith Cure.

Mr. W. B. Bradner, of whom the faith cure evangelist, Heller, claimed was restored to sight by prayer, laying on of hands and anointing, emphatically denies the same. He went to the house in Orchard street but once, with a friend, and then only had a conversation with Heller. Mr. Bradner sends the following card to the Daily Advertiser: "In your paper you published a communication which you said you had received in regard to the restoration of my eyesight. The said communication was entirely uncalled for and was without my knowledge or consent. The partial restoration of my eyesight, which has been gradually improving for several months, is due to the successful and painless operation of removing the cataract and the untiring attention given up to this time by one of Newark's most skillful oculists, Dr. T. Y. Sulphur."

Essex County Teachers' Association.

The next regular meeting of this Association will be held in Franklin Graded School, District No. 4, on Saturday, Oct. 23, 1886. It is hoped that every teacher in the County will try to be present.

An interesting programme has been prepared, which includes a paper in "Physical Exercise and its relation to Physiology and Education," by Principal Geo. W. Symonds of Franklin; "Geology," by Principal Randall Spaulding of Montclair, concluding with a visit to the Avondale quarries under the leadership of Mr. Spaulding. The teachers are expected to supply their own lunches.

Protecting Newark's Drinking Water.

The Board to Prevent Pollution of the Passaic River and its Tributaries met at office of the Aqueduct Board, Monday afternoon. President Seymour and Commissioner Hagen, and Jersey City Commissioners Kern, Jordan and Reynolds were present.

Inspector Leake reported that since his last report he had taken from the Passaic river and its tributaries the following dead animals: 12 dogs, 2 cats, 2 chickens, 2 ducks and 1 goose. He had forwarded to Prof. Austen, at Rutgers College, a large number of samples of water taken from various points on the Passaic and its tributaries. During the last month Second river has been in a bad condition, caused, in his opinion, by the numerous industries along the stream, as far north as Montclair. At Bloomfield several hat factories empty their wash in the stream and discolor the water. At Soho, Hendricks Brothers have a copper mill. The water at that point is discolored, though they claim that it is not any fault of theirs, as they have no refuse to run anywhere. The pond above them has a dirty appearance. Milk's factory discharges a very bad colored refuse into the river. They claim that the discharge is not in any way detrimental to the water. The pond above them has a very dirty appearance. Those in charge of Moffat's copper mill further north, say that nothing of a detrimental character comes from their factory. Moffat's pond is in bad condition. Mr. Moffat says he will flush the pond as soon as the quantity of water will allow. The pond above Wheeler's paper mill is in a bad condition. Samuel E. Crump, above Montclair, claims that nothing detrimental runs from his factory. Third river is in a very good condition. The Inspector says the major portion of the dead animals taken from the water are thrown in at the city of Newark and carried northward by the tide.

Commissioner Kern moved that in case the chemist finds that the samples of water recently sent him show that anyone is polluting the water of the river, the Board commence criminal proceedings immediately against the parties who are polluting the water. This was carried.

Prof. Austen stated that he would be ready to submit his report on the samples of water sent to him some time during the latter part of the week.
